

THREE PACIFIC COAST TENNIS STARS NAMED IN HERALD'S "FIRST TEN"

KINSEY'S WINE SELECT CIRCLE FIRST TIME

Tilden and Johnston Head Both American and World Rankings.

VINCENT RICHARDS THIRD

Francis T. Hunter One of Four Newcomers in List of Topnotchers.

By SAMUEL J. BROOKMAN.

A mass of data's piling up at tennis headquarters for the national ranking committee to delve into. Most of the scores of the 250 sanctioned tournaments held throughout the country during the outdoor season are in already, but there are a number of tardy clubs still to be heard from. When the list is complete, or nearly complete, the committee will begin its task of checking up and comparing performances of the leading players of the country, and of drawing up an official annual rating list, which will not be ready before midwinter.

So far as selecting the first ten is concerned, the committee need scarcely wade through any great mass of figures for the performances of the topnotchers have stood out boldly during the season and their relative positions can readily be determined. No two critics can be expected to agree in every respect, but the chances are that with one possible exception the men named by THE NEW YORK HERALD this morning for the select circle of the first ten, will be found in the official first ten ranking of the national association.

Following the custom of the association in omitting from consideration all foreign players who have not been residents of this country, we have not included in the national list such stars as Gerald L. Patterson, James O. Anderson and Pat O'Hara Wood of Australia, and Manuel Alonso of Spain, who undoubtedly would rate pretty close to the top, but we have found a place for Zeno Shimizu of Japan, a resident of New York, just as the national association found a place for Ichiji Kumagae a year ago before the latter returned to Nippon.

No Room for Dispute.

There can be not the slightest room for dispute as to the men who deserve first, second and third places in national ranking. William T. Tilden, the California, runner-up in the national championship, is just as sure of second position, and Vincent Richards of third as William T. Tilden is of first. Some of Billy Johnston's ardent admirers, and he has many of them, may point to the fact that the Californian defeated Tilden three times during the season whereas Tilden turned the tables only once, but Tilden's triumph came in the national championship and was decisive enough to leave him undisputed king of the tennis players of the country and the best of the tennis world for that matter. Not even Johnston will question Tilden's right to first place.

The champion was the only player to triumph over Johnston during the season. Richards lost to both Tilden and Johnston and dropped a match to Wallace Johnson in the Church Cup series, but the Yorkers youth had one victory over Tilden to his credit and atoned for the setback at the hands of Johnston by outplaying the latter in straight sets later in the season. Besides that Richards scored over Zeno Shimizu, Robert Kinsey and Howard Kinsey and Francis T. Hunter and wound up his string with a sensational decisive triumph over James O. Anderson of Australia.

Cornell Improves and Rolls Up a Big Score

Beats New Hampshire State by 68 to 7.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Cornell defeated New Hampshire State yesterday afternoon by the score of 68 to 7, scoring ten touchdowns and giving a much better exhibition of team work and team power than in the first two games of the season.

Newcomers in Select Circle.

The Kinseys, Shimizu and Hunter are the newcomers in the first ten. They take the places of Ichiji Kumagae, who is now back in the land of his birth; C. Howard Vossell, Lawrence B. Rice and Nathaniel W. Xiles. The latter two show a decided falling off in effectiveness. Rice in particular had a disappointing season. The year before he had moved up from thirty-second place to ninth, but in the first two matches he had extended R. Norris Williams and other topnotchers. The Longwood player ran into a slump early in the season and failed to maintain the confident aggressive pace of the previous year. Rice lapsed chiefly in the matter of control and speed, while Vossell and Niles could not summon sufficient stamina in important matches.

Were we to include in our ranking all the foreign players who appeared on American courts this season, Gerald Patterson of Australia, who has been in the select circle by his excellent play in the national championship, and Manuel Alonso of Spain impressed as the strongest of the foreigners, and he seems to have earned high place. James O. Anderson's selection for seventh place may be disputed by many because of the one sided defeats he met at the hands of Johnston and Richards, but the tall Australian, it may be remembered, was taken seriously ill just before Davis Cup matches and was scarcely able to do himself justice. At that he gave Tilden a very interesting tussle in the international challenge round.

Of the fifteen players included in the world ranking, United States has nine—six in the first ten. In the national ranking the Pacific Coast has three, the East seven, the Middle West none in the first ten.

Cycle to Chicago's Big Race.

Ten bicycle racers left today for Chicago over the Lincoln Highway to train for a six-day race, starting October 20. They expect to reach Chicago in eight days by their own method, which includes Bobby Walther, Jr., Charles Jaeger, Fred Spencer, Anthony Beckman, Tom Bello, Lawrence Gaffney, George Grimm, Sam Gastman and Billy Patti.

SCHOOL HARRIERS IN SWIFT CHASES

Erasmus Hall, Newtown High and Richmond Hill Score Over Hill and Dale.

The first series of weekly dual cross country runs between teams of high school harriers for the championship of the Public Schools Athletic League were decided over the Van Cortlandt Park trail yesterday. Each of the competing teams covered two miles of the intercollegiate course. One hundred and eighty slender but wiry and speedy young runners took part in the several chases.

Successful teams represented Erasmus Hall, which scored over Flushing, Curtis, Bryant and Brooklyn Tech in the first group; Newtown High School, whose runners outfooted those of Stuyvesant, De Witt Clinton, Manual Training, Boys and Commerce in the second group; and Richmond Hill's harriers, who gained their honors over Evander Childs, Commercial and Jamaica.

The series marked the first appearance of Brooklyn Tech in a P. S. A. L. championship cross country event and it was an auspicious debut for the institute of learning across the bridge, because one of its representatives, J. Boyle by name, came through in the first group to a brilliant victory, the defeated Campbell of Erasmus Hall in a spectacular and thrilling finish by two yards.

Another Thrilling Finish. In the second group Crandall of Newtown was the victor over Nicolalde of De Witt in a sensational finish. The pair ran on almost even terms to within ten yards of the tape, where Crandall forged slightly to the front. He won by a foot Corey of Evander Childs was the easiest winner. He dashed into the lead immediately after the starter's gun, and holding it thereafter had fifteen yards to spare at the end. The summaries:
